Federal Way I-5 Weekend Pavement Replacement

In our last e-mail update (Tuesday, April 26), we told you about scheduled lane closures on southbound I-5 in south Federal Way all this weekend (Friday, April 29 – Monday, May 2). However, storms now forecast for Saturday and Sunday forced us to postpone this extremely weather-sensitive work.

We will reschedule this work for another weekend in May. Crews will not work the weekend of May 14 and 15 because of the Northwest Korean Sports and Culture Festival, the largest Korean festival in the Pacific Northwest. Once work is underway, crews will remove and replace 52 broken and damaged concrete panels on southbound I-5 from South 336th Street to the King/Pierce County Line.

For the latest information on these closures, weather delays or other late-breaking news, please visit our Web site for I-5 Construction Projects.

Seattle I-5 Weekend Pavement Replacement

Rain forecasts have forced us to postpone the second weekend of work to replace southbound I-5 pavement through downtown Seattle. The next weekend for I-5 James to Olive construction is May 13 through 16. Crews will not work the weekend of May 7 because construction would conflict with the opening of boating season and other events that will draw large crowds through Seattle. Crews have been working on the I-5 James to Olive construction project weeknights since late March. We completed our first of four construction weekends on April 25.
